Planned Giving

Doane House Hospice

We support those with a life threatening illness from diagnosis through to bereavement and beyond. We have served the community since 1989 and have been located in this beautiful house since 2002.

Doane House was built circa 1845 as a home for Seneca Doane (1818 - 1898) a farmer, and his wife Elizabeth (Webb) Doane (1822 - 1881). Over an 18 month period the home was transformed back to its former glory of a well-built Quaker building, and reflects the care and quality of workmanship of the early Quaker years.

We are a non-residential Hospice

This brochure is intended to provide you with general planned giving information only.

Contact your financial advisor, accountant or the Planned Giving Coordinators at Doane House Hospice for more detailed information and your personal situation.

What is Planned Giving?

Planned Giving is a means for you to continue to support your charitable interests in a meaningful way now, and in the future, by giving some of your assets to a registered charity and receiving important tax credits in your favour.

There are many ways to make immediate donations or a planned gift.

You can:

Make a cash donation now or in the future and receive a tax credit for the amount donated.

Make a donation in kind ~ Donate publicly traded stocks or securities directly to Doane House Hospice and receive a tax credit for the full value under recent tax law changes.

Establish a Private Foundation with Doane House Hospice as one of the charities.

Establish a Charitable Life Annuity

This will provide you with a lifetime income and provide Doane House Hospice with the assets. You will receive a tax receipt for a portion of the donation.

Planned gifts can also be created by:

Donating a Life Insurance Policy

Designate Doane House Hospice as the sole or partial beneficiary on an existing insurance policy, or purchase a new policy specifically for charitable giving purposes. Tax receipts are issued for portions of the ongoing premiums paid.

Making a Bequest in Your Will

Provides funds to Doane House Hospice at the time your estate is created. Your estate will receive a tax receipt for the amount of the bequest or fair market value of donated properties. Your executor can make the donation on behalf of your estate.

Establishing a Charitable Remainder Trust

This allows you to donate your capital to a trust while continuing to provide you with the income and dividend income. Doane House

Hospice does not have access to the trust capital until your death, when the remaining assets are transferred.

Naming Doane House Hospice as the beneficiary of your registered retirement plan (RRSP, RRIF or TFSA). Your estate will receive a tax receipt for the amount of donated funds to be applied against any estate taxes.

Planned Giving will provide you with the satisfaction that you will be supporting your favourite charity.
